Closing Notes:

Every person who willfully or negligently sets or fails to guard carefully or extinguish any fire, whether on the person's own land or the land of another, whereby the timber or property of another is endangered is guilty of a misdemeanor (NRS 475.010). Every person who, with gross negligence, lights a fire for any purpose along the road through any woodland, or upon the same, or at any other place in the open, and thereby, or by any other means, sets fire to any growing timber or forest, shrubbery, crops, grass or vegetation, and thereby causes the destruction of any timber, forest, crops, grass, vegetation or property not his or her own, is guilty of a public offense, as prescribed in NRS 193.155, proportionate to the value of the loss resulting therefrom, in addition to being liable to the owner of such property for the full value thereof in a civil action (NRS 475.040). Each fire department may investigate: the cause, origin and circumstances of each fire which occurs within its jurisdiction and which results in the destruction of or damage to property, loss of life, or injury to any person; any report received pursuant to NRS 629.045 to determine the origin of the fire which caused the injury (NRS 475.125). It is unlawful for any person willfully or negligently: to throw or place any lighted cigarette, cigar, ashes, match or other material which may cause a fire in any place where such lighted cigarette, cigar, match, ashes or other material may start a fire (NRS 475.030).
